

Autumn leaves
Brilliant, glowing
Changing hues
Translucent outlines faint against the sun
Fly away as light as feathers
Falling music fills the air
One last chance for adventure
Before the shadows swallow them
The ground littered with crisp skeletons
The wind picks them up as they dance along the pavement
Getting ready to begin again
Dying to start over
To make way for new life
The trees shaking with excitement
A new year to come
As Autumn leaves

CHANGE
We fight change like the trees
In vibrant storms of color
But no matter how hard we try, we can't stop change
Because change is what life is about
